Van Zandt Co., Canton, Free State Enterprise, 28 Apr 1898, Obituary of N. S. Bratcher {30218}

N. S. Bratcher [#24444]

Several days ago, N. S. Bratcher of this place was stricken with paralysis and lingered in a very low suffering condition till 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, April 20th, when he died. On the day following his remains were carried to Creagleville and there entombed to await the resurrection. The Enterprise extends sympathy to the bereaved wife and children. May they ever trust in Him who has promised to be a husband to the widow and a father to the orphan.

Van Zandt Co., Wills Point Chronicle, 29 Aug 1901, Obituary of W. P. Bratcher {30217}

W. P. Bratcher [#24443]

BRATCHER--August 29, 1901, Wills Point Chronicle: Died, at the family residence, five miles west of Grand Saline on Friday, Aug. 16, 1901, at 2:15 p.m., W.P. Bratcher. Interment at Creagleville cemetery on Saturday following at 4 p.m. In the death of W.P. Bratcher our county loses one of its oldest and most respected citizens. His dealings with his fellow-men were always characterized by the highest sense of honor, he had a kind word for everyone and was generous to a fault, and everyone will learn of his death with genuine regret. The Sun offers its condolence to the bereaved relatives. Grand Saline Sun. Uncle Bill was a pioneer resident of this county and by his death Van Zandt loses one of its most respected citizens, and he will be sadly missed in the locality of which he was so long a resident. We have known him for a number of years and always thought of him with the greatest veneration and respect. The Chronicle joins the Sun in extending sympathy to the surviving members of the family.
