William Hime [#142] vs. James Christian [#148/1]

24 Sep 1844

"Injunction Bill

The Bill of Complaint of William Hime a citizen of Bedford County Tennessee against James Christian of the County & State aforesaid filed in the Chancery Court at Shelbyville. To the Honl. B. L. Ridley Chancellor . . . Your orator humbly complaining would . . . unto your Honor that he contracted with James Christian for the purchase of a certain tract of land situate in Bedford County containing about 28 acres, being Lot No. 5 in the division of the lands of John Hime [#14] deceased, a more particular description of which can be seen by a reference to said division. Said tract of land descended to the wife of said Christian from her father the said John Hime, and she at the time of the contract aforesaid was a minor under the age of 21 years. It was a part of the contract that said Christian and his wife should execute to your orator for said land and that said Christian should in addition thereto execute to your orator a bond to refund the purchase money should his said wife when she arrived at the age of twenty one refuse to ratify the said deed. Your orator would further state that as pursuance of said agreement said Christian & wife on the 13th day of January 1844 executed and delivered to him a deed for said land and acknowledged the same before the Clerk of the County Court of Bedford County in pursuance of the Acts of Assembly in such cases made & provided and your orator executed to said Christian his two bonds on Sept. 1st 1844, one for $106.00 and the other for $90.00 the latter was to be paid in a waggon which was the consideration agreed to be paid by your orator for said land and it was distinctly understood between said Christian and your orator that the said Christian was to execute a refunding bond aforesaid and it was upon this condition alone that your orator agreed to purchase. And he never would have purchased but for such promise of indemnity against loss from the wife of said Christian refusing when she arrived at age to ratify said sale. Your orator would further state that said Christian now refuses to execute said bond and has actually sued your orator before a Justice of the Peace for said County of Bedford (John W. Cobb) upon the largest note and obtained a judgment for about seventy one dollars and costs the balance due on said note and threatent to sue him on the trade note, although he has executed no refunding bond and even refuses to execute one and although his wife lacks more than two years of reaching her majority, all of which is manifestly against equity and conscience. Said Christian is at this time utterly insolvent and is about to remove from the County . . . The premises considered your orator prays your Honor to make said James Christian a defendant to this bill that copies hereof and subpoena issue . . . and that he be required full time and perfect answers to make to the several allegations contained in complainant bill in as full and ample a manner as if the same were here again repeated and he specially interrogated thereto. And may it please your Honor at the hearing to decree that said Christian be enjoined from collecting any of said purchase money or transferring the notes, bonds, or judgments until he executes to your orator a bond with good security to refund said purchase money in the event his wife when she arrives at the age of 21 dissents from her said deed or until she arrives at the age of 21 years and ratifies her said deed. And in the meantime may it please your Honor to order an injunction to issue restraining all further proceedings until the further order of the Court and such other and further relief grant in the premises as your Honor may think your orator entitled to and your orator as in duly bound will every pray. This is the first application for an injunction in this cause.
